L3 class has had plenty of exciting half term news to feed back, especially lots of Hallowe'en antics. The week has been steady and focused. There has been some splashing around in the new swimming sessions and some great football achievements at the Middlesex Football school sessions for Lian, Dhaval and Steven, who did Oak Lodge School proud.

Hello,
 We hope everyone had a fun holiday and a great first week back. During the half term break, Jack went to Wales. He hiked, visited a castle and tasted the succulent lamb and lovely leeks. Asher finished his play called, "That Dam Hypnotist", his first work of science-fiction. Lily made some vanilla ice-cream, which, unfortunately, she didn't bring in and share. Philip did some really creative work in art of which we are all very proud. Lily and Asher also gained merits for their work in history. Finally, we have started a social event at the start of lunch. We head outside for a walk and a chat. It has been very successful and we hope to keep it up.

In maths, S7 have been calculating how much the ingredients cost to make a breakfast omelette.

Congratulations to Jaia in S3, who has earned all her petals this week for her punctuality and attendance. Well done Jaia. This is a fantastic achievement!

L1 were very proud of Katie this week, who brought in her very own pumpkin to show the rest of the class. She made it with her family during Hallowe'en. It was very impressive!

S1 have finished their model castle. We made some paper crowns and then visited the real crown jewels in the tower of London. Yesterday, we made a guy for bonfire night.

Oak Lodge's animal care group had a great trip to Belmont Children's Farm. We met a lovely baby deer called Bambi. There were lots of different farm animals. Although Gadi was less than impressed with the smell of the sheep, we are looking forward to getting out and about & visiting more places, including the animal centre at our friends' school, King Alfreds.
