L5 students have been out in our local area identifying four types of blossom trees. Twice we were caught in heavy rain showers but we still managed to see the blossom trees. Here we are standing under a flowering cherry blossom tree. We all tried to smell the blossom but this cherry blossom did not smell of anything. We also saw apple blossom and yellow forsythia. We like this because it is bright yellow and we can see it from our classroom. It is under our bird feeder but it is not in bloom now.
